	Employees with employee-only coverage must meet the individual deductible before the plan will begin paying benefits. If you cover dependents, the plan will begin to pay benefits for a covered individual once that person has met the individual-in-family deductible. Once one or more family members have met the family deductible, the plan will pay benefits for all family members for the rest of the year.

[1] When you use out-of-network providers, the plan pays benefits up to the maximum allowed amount (MAA). You are responsible for your percentage share of the MAA, plus any amount the provider charges above the MAA.

[2] This is the amount if your HSA is open for the full year. Lam contributes $50 per pay period if you have individual medical coverage or $100 per pay period if you cover others. If your HSA is opened midyear, your total for the year will be less.

[3] Your copayments do not count toward the deductible, but they do count toward the out-of-pocket maximum.

[4] Applies to Kaiser members in California and Washington only. For Oregon members: After you meet the deductible, you pay $0 or a $5 copayment for the first three visits of the year (any combination of primary care nonspecialty services, mental health outpatient services, naturopathic medicine visits, substance use disorder outpatient services, and telemedicine services).

[5] Exams provided by an optometrist are not subject to the deductible; you pay the copayment only.

[6] Includes immunizations and lab tests (ages 0–6), annual physical exams (age 7 and older), Pap tests, colonoscopies, and prostate exams (per age and frequency guidelines).

[7] For mail-order prescriptions, CVS Caremark permits a 90-day supply. Your cost is twice the cost of the retail copayment for a 30-day supply. Higher copayments also apply to retail supplies greater than 30 days.

[8] If a generic drug is available, you pay the difference between the cost of the generic drug and the preferred (or non-preferred) drug, unless your doctor writes the prescription as “dispense as written.”

[9] Your copayments do not count toward the deductible, but they do count toward the out-of-pocket maximum.

[10] For prescriptions filled at non-network pharmacies, CVS Caremark pays 50% of the fee schedule. You pay the applicable copayment, 50% of the fee schedule, plus any additional charges above the fee schedule.

[11] For the CDHP, your cost is greater for prescription supplies for longer than 30 days.

[12] If authorized by your doctor, Kaiser permits prescription supplies of up to 100 days in California and up to 90 days in Oregon and Washington.
